Pyjama World Book Day

As a school, we are very excited to celebrate 'World Book Day' again this year, which will take place on Thursday 6th March. We thought, as an alternative to dressing up as a character from a book, this year we would invite both staff and pupils to wear their pyjamas for the day. Hopefully, this will make it a little easier and less costly, whilst still making it a fun day for the children!

We will also have Usborne books available to purchase on Friday 7th March.

CLASS NEWS

Class 1

We made it! This week we have come to the end of our topic of 'Winter'. We have also completed our half-termly reading assessments, with all the children doing really well. I have sent out log in details again, for Bug Club online, for those that needed them, as we have collected in all the physical books. I have allocated more books to their new level, so lots of opportunity to read over half-term. In Numeracy, we have been investigating different ways to measure, with lots of practical activities to consolidate learning. We finished our topic on animals this week in Science, by researching about pets, and recording the data on a bar graph. The children have all worked so hard this half-term and are ready for a well-deserved break. We will see you all after the holidays, ready to start our topic 'Celebrations'. Have a wonderful half-term everyone!

Class 2

We've had a great end of half term week in Class 2. We had a lovely start to the week with our reflecting and learning session led by Jane Webber our Christian Worker. The children responded very thoughtfully to the different prayer stations and wrote some lovely prayers. On Wednesday coach Neil gave the children a fantastic session taking part in a debate about who works the hardest in school! This was followed by a celebration of all the work they have done over the 6 weeks. Also on Wednesday, the children made their healthy wraps for their DT topic. They thoroughly enjoyed it and ate them with great enthusiasm afterwards. The end of the week has been spent finishing off our topics such as R.E. and History. I think we are all ready for a break. Have a lovely half term everyone.

Class 3

The children have had another action-packed week with lots going on including a prayer and drum workshop which were both fantastic as well as our weekly forest schools' session. We finished our work on writing letters for different purposes with a variety of letters being produced in a range of styles. In maths we revisited place value looking at ordering and partitioning different sized numbers with everyone working hard. The children enjoyed their P.E. inter-house competition with good sportsmanship shown by all. I hope everyone has a wonderful half term break and we will see you back in school on Monday 24th February.

Class 4

Another very busy week in Class 4. Miss Matthews, who is undertaking a PGCE, joined our class late last week and will be with us on and off until June. In maths, we have looked at geometry this week and considered terms such as translation and reflection. In English, we have looked at narrative poems and have created our own to summarise the events of our class text 'The Call of the Wild.' We have also looked at how the Anglo-Saxon time period ended in our History lessons. Homework for the half term is to read and to take part in activities on TT Rock stars.
